80'S INSPIRED COLLECTION WITH WHIMSICAL PRINTS & LOOSE CUTS FOR THE GIRL WHO JUST WANTS TO HAVE FUN

Bella + Sophia is a modern line of kidswear dedicated to high quality, innovative and comfort design at moderate price point. The brand is based out of Chicago and focuses on sustainable and local sourcing as well as making a difference in the community. The brand is designed by me: Jennifer Lezan-Veguilla and inspired by my two daughters Bella (7) & Sophia (2).

At the heart of the business is a genuine desire to educate, reform & inspire the youth from underserved communities. As a young girl I grew up in trying circumstances amidst poverty, gangs, drugs and abuse. Despite attempts to leave the bad behind in the hoods of Chicago, my mother couldn't shake much of it off. The domestic violence & heartache I saw as a child affected the decisions I have made as an adult and now parent to do better and make the world better for my two young girls and myself.

Through hard work and persistence we can truly change the world and we must start with the children. With this idea in place, a portion of the sales of each garment goes back to the community through local non-profit organizations catering to the underserved, minority and at risk youth.
